Foreword

—with style—

To portray school life as we know it, to keep alive memories of our youth, and to preserve forever a record of life's happiest days-- this is our purpose in compiling this "Radio" of the class of '29.

Dedication

—*—

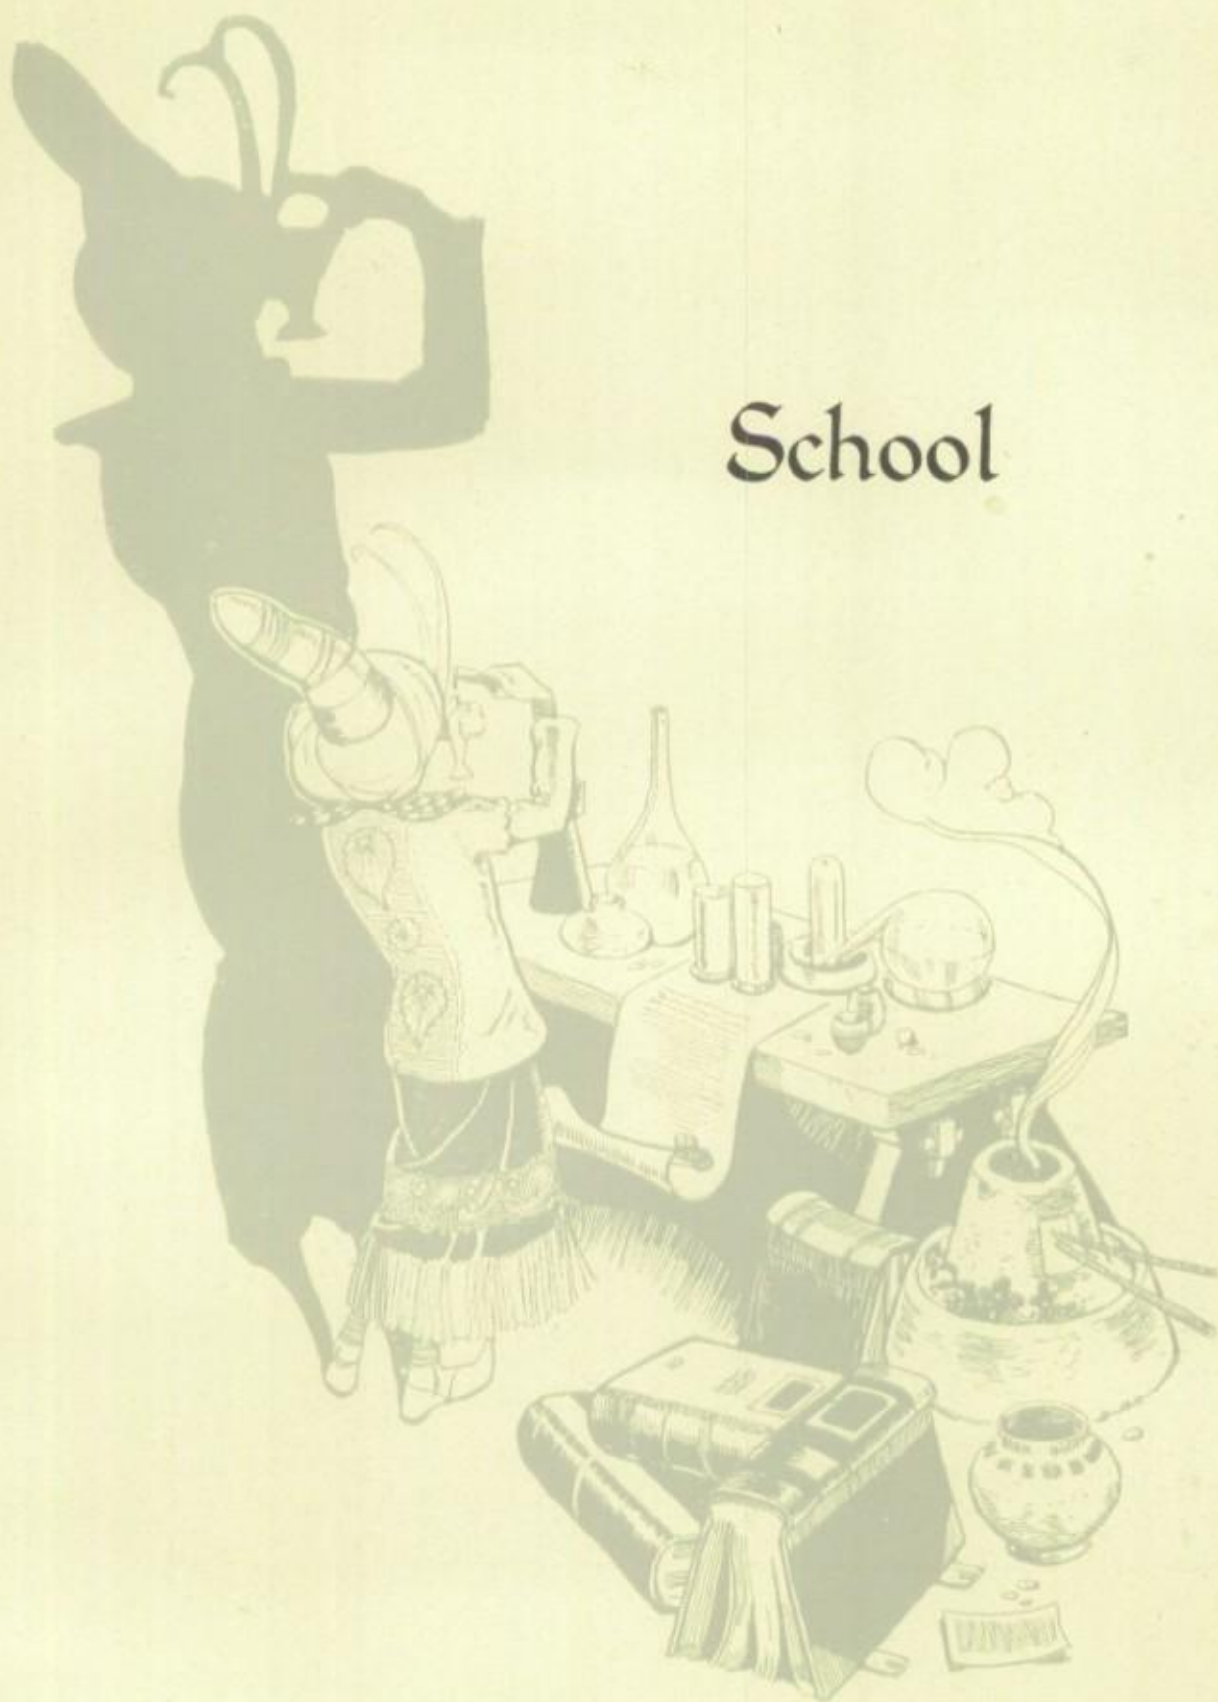

To our sponsor, Esther Pearson, who for the past two years has been a willing helper in making a success of all our undertakings, we dedicate this annual.

Seniors

LUCY WILKINSON

"Luce"

*"Happy-go-lucky, from care I'm free,
Why aren't you all contented like me?"*

"Luce" just happened along August 5, 1911, northeast of Markleville. She has been a prominent member of our class during all twelve years and says it is nonsense to see anything but the sunny side of life. We wish her much success in life and know she'll take her own part.

Asst. Editor of Radio.

CARSON SMITH

"Red"

"All the world loves a lover."

"Red" breezed in November 18, 1911, on Maple Street, Markleville, Ind. He has been an outstanding member of our gang and is full of pep. His red head is the only one to be found among the Seniors and will never be forgotten. He is interested in everything that will benefit his class.

OLIVER WALTERS

"Olly"

"His modesty is worthy of wide imitation."

"Olly" was born November 22, 1910, somewhere northeast of Anderson. He has been with us four years and during that time has helped the class much. We, the class, will surely miss him.

Basketball '29.
Distributing Manager of Radio.

DEWITT MARKLE

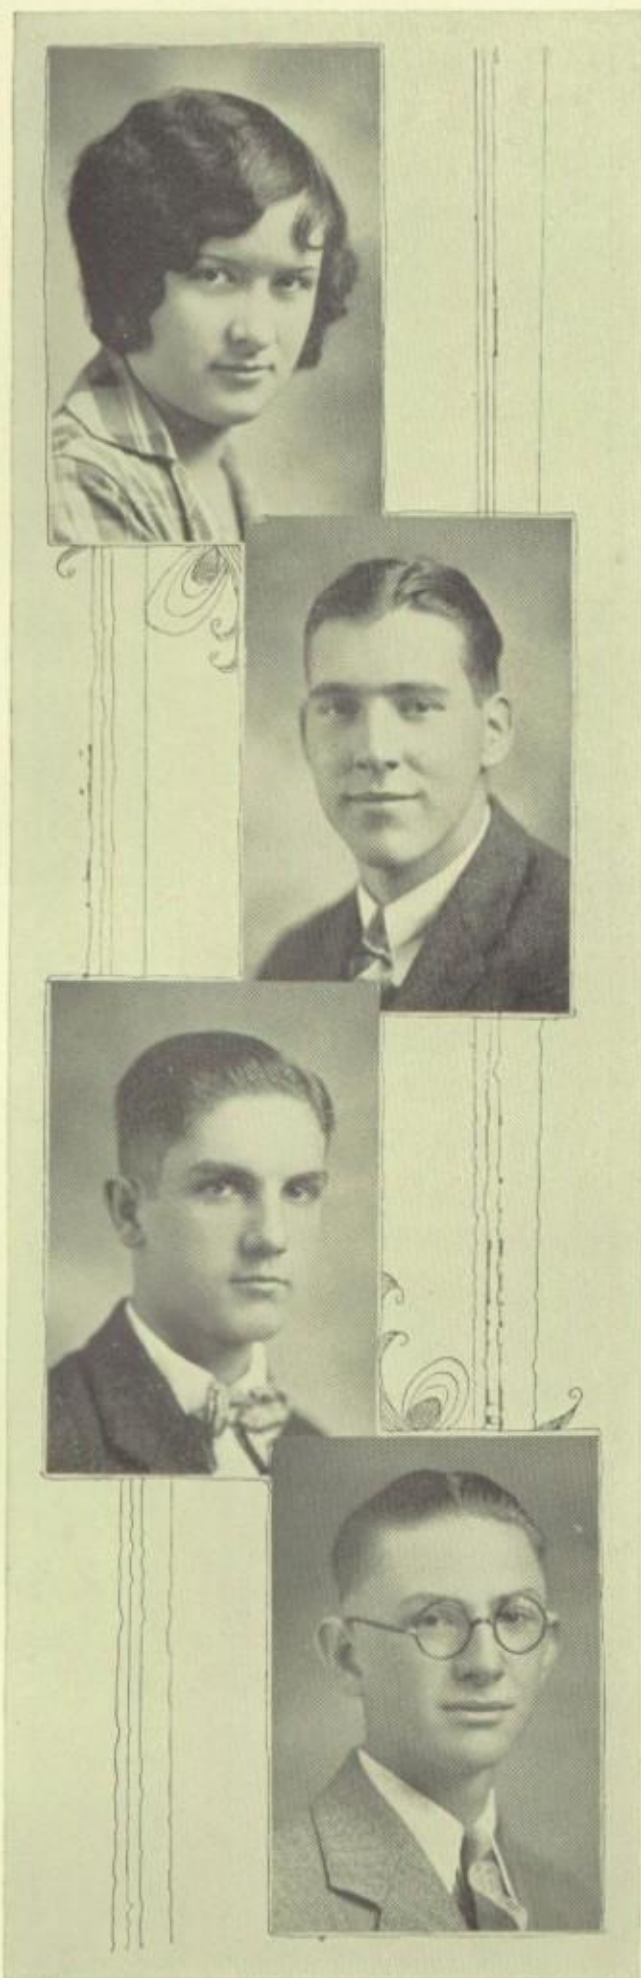

"Dee"

"If he can't make you laugh, you're sad indeed."

"Dee" came floating down the Tippecanoe river July 9, 1912 and landed near Winamac. His mischief gets him into much trouble, but his wit gets him out. If it wasn't for Dewitt our class wouldn't exist.

Joke Editor of Radio.

MILDRED HODSON

"Hod"

"Her heart ran away with her head."

"Hod" came to this world somewhere northeast of Anderson on July 31, 1910. She is one of the two girls who have been faithful throughout the past four years and will long be remembered for her whispering in Botany.

MAURICE CONNER

"Doc"

"He is hypnotized by his own thoughts."

"Doc" first saw light September 15, 1911, near Valley Grove but soon came to Markleville and started his school career. He is a prominent member and can always be depended on.

ROBERT COOPER

"Bob"

"Never do today what you could leave for tomorrow."

"Bob" sprang up August 28, 1909, somewhere near Mechanicsburg. Although he is a faithful and industrious student he likes his fun. He is well known in Middletown and various other Henry county towns.

Basketball '28, '29.

Asst. Joke Editor of Radio.

CARL WILLIAMS

"Kit"

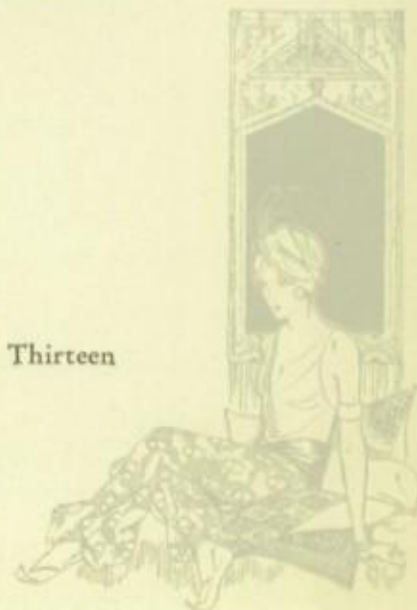

"I have often regretted my speech, never my silence."

"Kit" began to blink his eyes September 18, 1911, about two miles west of Markleville. He has been a member of our class for twelve years and specializes in Botany. His soul ambition is to become an auctioneer.

Art Class '26, '27, '28.

Advertising Manager of Radio.

DONALD DUDLEY"Donny"

"He who invented work should have finished it."

"Donny" was blown in by the wind, March 26, 1911, at Kennard, Ind. His first words being, "Hello, world," and he still says its a great life if you don't weaken. He's one of our popular blondes and has a great weakness for East Markleville.

GLEN JOHNSON"Chudd"

"Always true to his word and his friends."

"Chudd" first appeared on the scene July 6, 1911, down near Poley Walk. He is another member who has been with us throughout the past twelve years. He has many friends and is above the average student when it comes to making grades.

Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29.

Basketball '29.

Vice-President '29.

ERMAL McCORMACK"Ozz"

"All great men are dead—I don't feel well myself."

"Ozz" stepped through the dew November 8, 1911, at New Castle, but couldn't stay away from a good town, so now he lives in Markleville. He is a faithful member of our class and a small lad, but tries to act tough by carrying a toy pistol with him.

Asst. Business Manager of Radio.

DE LOSS COLE

"Dusty"

*"The secret of my success lies not in what I know,
But what I can make others believe."*

"Dusty" made his first appearance February 7, 1911, south of Emporia. He is a very reliable and trustworthy student, a participant in all social affairs, and a helper for his class at all times. He has a love for drawing the Buick.

Art '26, '27, '28.

Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29.

HARLEY DEWITT

"Harl"

"Courteous to all, but intimate with few."

Harley was born November 22, 1910, near Anderson. He has been one of our classmates for seven years and, although he is a silent student, he is a very brilliant one and has aided the class very much.

Glee Club '28, '29.

EUGENE COLE

"Ene"

"Still waters run deep,"

"Ene" was first heard from April 28, 1911, on East State Street. He has been a prominent member since the beginning and always does his part whatever it may be. His favorite song is, "Sweet Rosie O'Grady."

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF—

Mildred wasn't in love?

Ermall would lose his toy revolver?

Harley would make some noise?

John couldn't spit out the window?

Mr. Ewing would ever remember where he puts things?

Oliver would move to Sly Fork?

Robert would sit still one whole period?

Donald got to school on time?

Lucy would get her hair cut?

Dewitt would get skinny?

Maurice couldn't sing?

Eugene wasn't teased all the time?

Glenn didn't make a good grade in Botany?

Carl couldn't find a buyer for his Botany book?

Carson couldn't smile?

Warren would forget the way to Anderson?

DeLoss didn't mention the Buick?

Mr. Walker wouldn't rave in Economics?

Senior Class Prophecy

The Parent-Teachers Association of Markleville High School recently purchased a newly invented machine. If one steps inside this machine, it shows what he will be doing ten years from now. The Seniors of '29, being an unusual class, were the first to look into their futures.

Wondering what would become of John Thomas Guenther who had been sent out of Botany class for spitting on the floor, the teachers decided to place him in the machine at once. After a half hour of anxious waiting, he was seen in the kitchen of George Hart's restaurant washing dishes.

One Monday morning Donald Dudley, seeming to have a severe case of the blues, was put into the machine. You can imagine the amazement of those who were watching when black and white stripes began to appear. A tag about his neck read as follows: "2 to 14 years for the attempted murder of James I. Morton." Much to the relief of the onlookers the stripes began to disappear, and Donald was seen standing before the altar with a bride whom we recognized at once as Virginia.

The third victim of this contraption was Mildred Hodson who was very eager to learn the outcome of all her love affairs. After a few minutes of waiting, she was seen riding in a taxi with Harold at her side. The taxi driver was no other than Glenn Ebertt. They came to an abrupt stop in front of a doctor's office. The sign read, "Dr. Maurice A. Conner, Surgeon." As Mildred opened the door to the secretary's office to take up her work, Maurice was seen performing an operation. He was removing a bone from Hildred Mauzy's nose. This bone was fractured when she fell on the ice at Wilson's Lake in 1928.

Carl Williams was next to learn his fate. He appeared almost immediately, shouting, "I got five. I got five. Who'll go ten?" He was traveling with a medicine show company, auctioneering their valuable herbs and soaps.

After much persuasion and many threats of holding back credits, Eugene Cole entered. A very modern barber shop slowly came in view where Brownie's old barber shop stood. Behind the chair was Eugene. He was using some kind of an electrical apparatus on Floyd T. Walker to stop beard from growing. Over in one corner was a large overstuffed chair for shoe shining patrons. In this chair sat Elbert U. Ewing reading a "True Story" magazine, while Warren Addison struggled desperately to fulfill his orders to put such a shine on those shoes that the face of the wearer would be reflected as he window-shopped.

Senior Class Prophecy

When Robert Cooper stepped in everything grew hazy. We thought he had jimmied the works. Then through the mist we saw Robert in a land unfamiliar to us. As things gradually cleared up, we saw him in a long white robe playing, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" on one of St. Peter's golden harps, and gazing with longing eyes down toward Mechanicsburg.

It was now Glen's turn. After a few moments of suspense we saw him standing on a platform introducing a bill to Congress to the effect that women shall no longer wear bobbed hair or short skirts.

Soon after Carson entered things became quite lively. A baseball game was in progress between two great league teams. Carson was a second Babe Ruth. In the short time we watched he made five home runs.

The Seniors insisted on Harley DeWitt being next as they wondered what would be the outcome of this quiet Senior. As we had guessed he was living on a large farm near Pendleton. Harley was tilling the soil with a large Farm-all tractor.

When Ermall's turn came we were not surprised at what was revealed for we always thought that he'd do something great. He was seated in the mayor's office in Anderson trying to convince Oliver Walters, city judge, that Markleville should be added as a suburb.

De Loss tried it out next. He was seated at a table in the Buick Motor Corporation. He was using the talent he had developed in high school for drawing parts of a Buick. He was a draftsman for the Company.

The boys decided that it was about Lucy's time to look into the future. Many guesses were voiced as to what we should see, such as a nurse, housekeeper, actress, etc., but alas! we were doomed to disappointment. Lucy had followed Miss Pearson's advice and had grown into a pleasingly plump old maid. Due to the rapid growth of Markleville, she was kept very busy writing items for the "Bulletin."

Last, but not least, DeWitt strolled in. He certainly had succeeded Tom Mix. For, as we gazed we saw him fall from a cliff a thousand feet high into a torrent of rushing water, rescue a fair maiden, and come up with his hair combed perfectly.

Senior Class Will

We, the members of the graduating class of 1929 of Markleville High School, realizing that we cannot, in our future work, use some of the properties which have proved so valuable to us in high school, do bequeath these articles to our followers:

First, To the faculty we bequeath our sunny smiles, our happy-go-lucky ways, and the fond memories of our perfect recitations.

Second, We bequeath to the Junior class the honor of sitting in our seats and the privilege of looking out the window at any time.

Third, To the Sophomores we bequeath the ability to lead the school in all activities.

Fourth, We bequeath to the Freshmen our studious ways and dignified manners.

Fifth, Harley Dewitt wills his quiet disposition to Margaret Stevens.

Sixth, Oliver Walters wills his school boy complexion to Paul Cole.

Seventh, Mildred Hodson wills to Helen Markle her love for certain brothers.

Eighth, Robert Cooper wills his good behavior in Botany to Harold Ebbertt.

Ninth, De Loss Cole wills his key of welcome to Emporia to Paulmer Keller.

Tenth, Lucy Wilkinson wills her love for "Anderson Sheiks" to Marie Fort.

Eleventh, Ermall McCormack wills his pop-gun to Lowell Barnett, (so he can safely walk past the elevator after dark.)

Twelfth, Warren Addison wills his formula for hair dressing to Eugene Moneyhun.

Thirteenth, Maurice Connor wills his vocal ability to Mr. Ewing.

Fourteenth, Mildred Hodson wills her "giggles" and "te-hes" to Eva Williams.

Fifteenth, John Guenther wills his 28-inch bottom corduroy trousers to Robert Collier.

Sixteenth, Carson Smith wills his spats and suspenders to Herman Hankins.

Seventeenth, Donald Dudley wills his attentiveness to Eugene Seward.

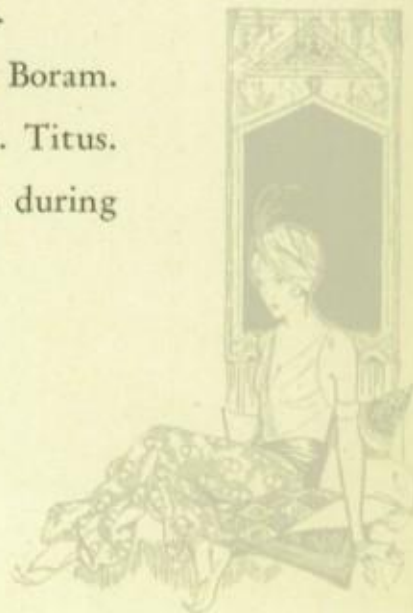

Eighteenth, Dewitt Markle wills his secret reducing methods to Martha Bell Shaw.

Nineteenth, Eugene Cole wills his way with "wimmin" to Paul Chadwick.

Twentieth, Carl Williams wills his ambition to be an auctioneer to Robert Boram.

Twenty-first, Glen Johnson wills his basket-ball ability at center to L. M. Titus.

Twenty-second, Lucy Wilkinson wills the A's she has made in deportment during her four years in high school to Eva Williams.

Senior Class History

On August 31, 1925, twenty-six green and frightened children started a four-year term in Markleville High School. Noticing that the upper classmen were holding class meetings and electing officers, we decided to follow suit. We called a class meeting, and elected Maurice Conner, president, and Lucy Wilkinson, secretary and treasurer. We enjoyed the Hallowe'en party given us by the Sophomores at the High School Gymnasium. Here we were initiated and became firmly established members of the M.H.S. Parties were also enjoyed at the homes of Glen Johnson and George Earley. By the encouraging words of Mr. Noland, Mr. Ewing, Miss Williams, and Mrs. McCarty, we successfully completed this year and were passed on as Sophomores. That is, all except Josephine McKinnsey, James Crosthwaite, and Willis Pendigras, who fell by the wayside.

The next year we were twenty-three, but we gained a jolly fellow, John Guenther, from Middletown. It fell to our lot to initiate the Freshmen, and we certainly did it up brown. A party at Warren Addison's country home was enjoyed, especially by the boys. The teachers this year were Mr. Noland, Mr. Ewing, sponsor; Miss Pearson, Miss Stohler, and Mrs. McCarty. We elected Eugene Cole, president; Oliver Walters, secretary, and Maurice Conner, treasurer.

When we came back the third year we found we had lost Alberta Hartzell, Alice Begley, Olga Bennett, and Eunice Keesling to Dan Cupid. Having lost Arthur Odell and Vaughn Neff the year before, this made our number only sixteen, fourteen boys and two girls. We chose John Guenther, president; Glen Johnson, secretary; and Maurice Conner, treasurer. We had a rousing old party at Lucy's with all members present. This together with the two skating parties at Mounds Park broke the monotony of our school work. At the end of the year we gave the reception for the Seniors in the Y.W. C.A. at Anderson. We were guided over the rough places by Mr. Ewing, Mr. Walker, Miss Pearson, sponsor; Miss Stohler, and Mrs. McCarty.

In the fall of '28 we came back, fourteen boys and two girls to finish our course as dignified Seniors. We chose Lucy for president, Robert Cooper, secretary; and De Loss Cole, treasurer. We had a long-to-be-remembered weiner roast at the old flowing well one cold night in December. Mr. Ewing, Mr. Walker, Miss Pearson, sponsor; Miss Titus, and Mrs. McCarty helped us through this year. We are beginning to realize that our happiest days are drawing to a close. Having mastered all difficulties, we find ourselves on the last round of the ladder, ready for whatever fate hands us.

Junior and Senior Reception, 1928

The Junior-Senior reception was held in the reception and dining-rooms of the Y.W.C.A. at Anderson, April 13. The dining-room was beautifully decorated in red and white. The color scheme was carried out in table decorations, the red rosebud being given as favors. The eats were sumptuous and were made even more palatable by the wise cracks of Big Rich.

The guests included the trustee and his wife, the H. S. faculty, and the junior and senior classes.

The entertainment was furnished by Big R. who read poems, impersonated Riley, and told good jokes. The Van Hoy sisters added to the entertainment with their singing and playing. All reported a very pleasant evening in spite of the rain.

MISS CHERRY BLOSSOM

On Feb. 5 at the gymnasium the combined boys' and girls' Glee Clubs of the high school gave "Miss Cherry Blossom," a comic opera in three acts. The scene was laid in Kokemo's Tea Garden, Tokyo, Japan.

The Cast of Characters were:

Cherry Blossom, brought up as Kokemo's daughter.....	Ruth Hartzell
Kokemo, proprietor of tea garden	Dewitt Markle
John Henry Smith, "Jack", a New Yorker	Maurice Conner
Henry F. Jones, Jack's pal	Carson Smith
Horace Worthington, New York broker	L. M. Titus
James Young, Worthington's secretary.....	Donald Dudley
Jessica Vanderpool, Worthington's niece	Lucy Wilkinson
Togo, Japanese politician of high rank	Ermall McCormack
Choruses.....	American boys and girls and Geisha girls
Dance.....	Carol Keesling

The choruses of American girls and boys and Geisha girls consisted of fifty voices. The opera was given appropriate costumes of the Japanese and American people. We feel that the opera was a huge success due to the fact that every member of the cast put himself heart and soul into each individual part and to the splendid cooperation of each member of the choruses. Marguerite Ham, a sophomore, accompanied the opera. Marie McCarty, music supervisor, coached the Libretto and directed the music.

The scenery for the Japanese garden was painted by the high school art class.

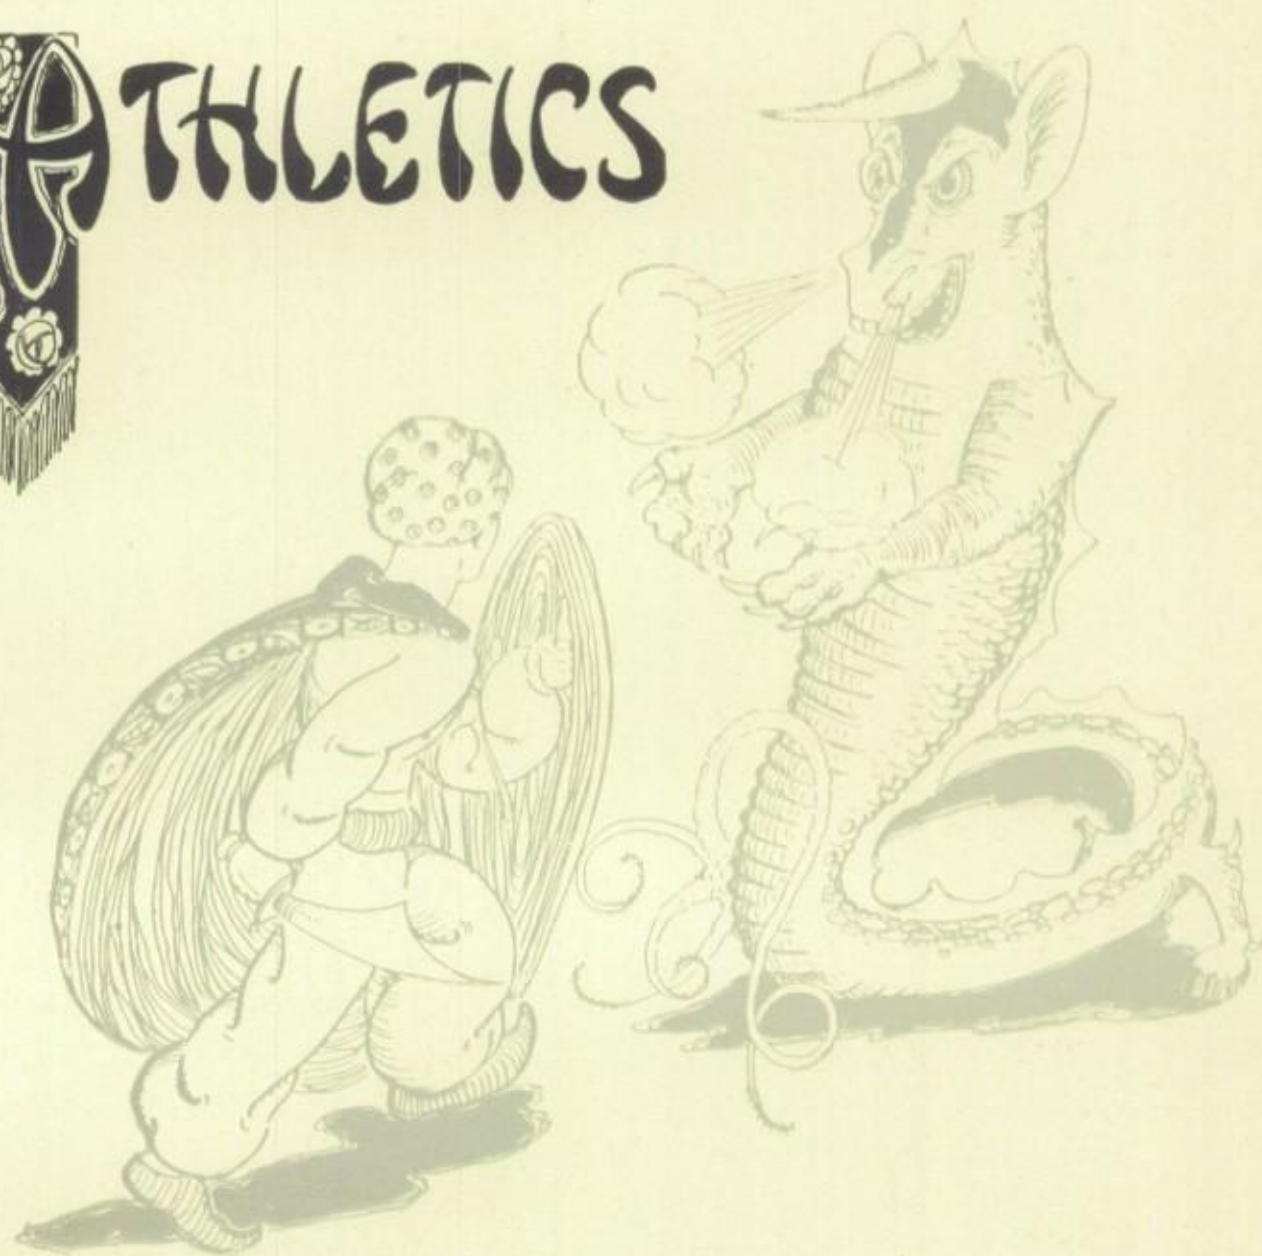

AUNT DRUSILLA'S GARDEN

On Nov. 27 the grades presented a charming operetta in two acts, "Aunt Drusilla's Garden."

The proceeds for these operettas were used for remodeling the art room.

CARSON SMITH

"Red" is Hank's partner on the basketball floor and together they form a combination that is hard to stop. In addition to being our second high point man, he has unusual ability in keeping the team on their toes and then sets an example of fast defensive work, a notable instance was the holding of "King" from Frankton. He plays hard and yet his mental attitude holds even the respect of his opponents. Carson has been a member of the squad for three years and his place will be hard to fill next year.

HERMAN HANKINS

"Hank" has been our main scoring ace throughout the season. He is tall and rangy and causes most guards a lot of worry. His best game was probably against Alexandria when he scored 28 points. He is also a good defensive man and an exceptional receiver of fast passes. He will be remembered by M.H.S. fans and all regret that this year ends his high school basketball career.

GLEN JOHNSON

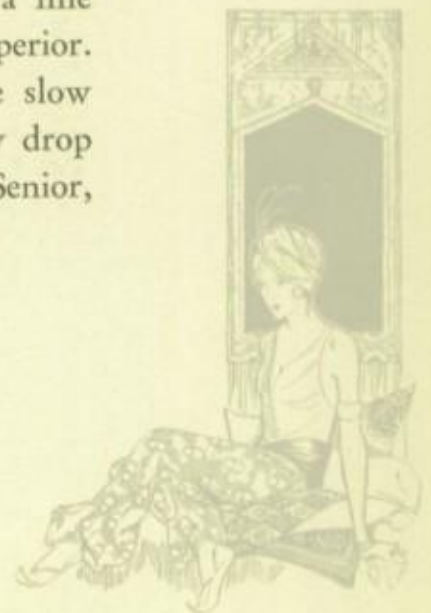

"Chudd" is our blonde-headed center. He made the team as a surprise to everyone, including the coach, and we don't see how we could ever get along without him. He wins most of the tip-offs for M.H.S. and is an excellent shot both at long range and under the basket. He won much praise for his guarding of "Rozell" from Wilkinson, who could testify as to his ability. Would it not be fine if he were only a freshman instead of a senior?

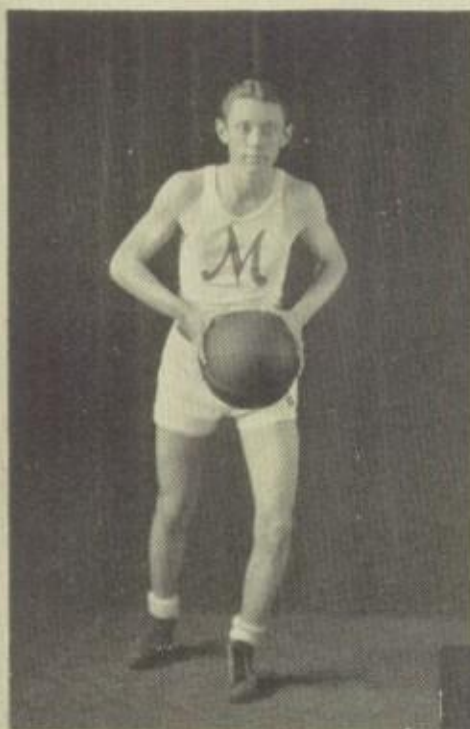

EUGENE COLE

"Ene" played two seasons at forward but this, his last year, he has displayed superior ability at the back-guard's position. He ranks high among the guards of this section, being quick in gaining possession of the opponent's ball off the backboard and in keeping possession of it and passing it into defensive or offensive play. His basket shooting has been demonstrated on several occasions from mid-floor, and he is a clever shot from the foul line.

DONALD DUDLEY

"Dud" is our little floor-guard who stops them all and fears none. He is a fine defensive and offensive player, and for headwork few are his equal and none his superior. He retains the ball under seemingly impossible conditions, is the center of the slow offense, and can pass like a bullet. His shots from the center of the floor usually drop through the basket, touching nothing but the lower part of the net. Yes, he's a Senior, also.

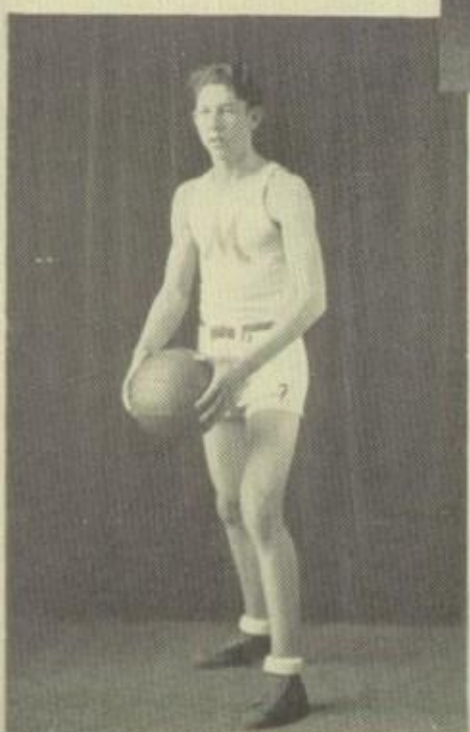

Paul Cole - L F

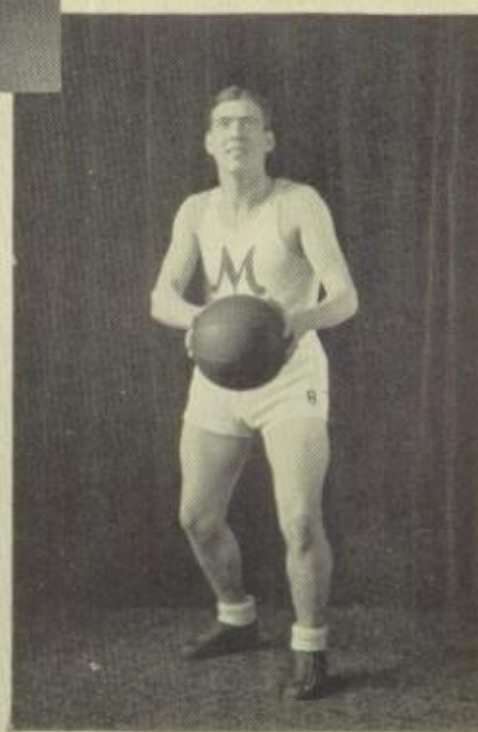

Ermall McCormack - R F

L.M. Titus - C

John Guenther - B G

Maurice Conner - F G

PAUL COLE

"Joe" can play floor-guard or forward equally well. His playing has pulled us out of some close games this year; for example the McCordsville game here when he scored four field goals enabling us to win, 42-37. He is an excellent jumper, a good passer, and a deliberate and heady player. He has one more year to show his ability and he can be counted upon to be one of the main cogs in next year's team.

JOHN GUENTHER

"J.T." plays back-guard or center. He is a hard fighter and a good defensive player. His guarding has helped keep down the scoring of many of our opponents. His best showing was probably in the Frankton game. He is another one of the Senior boys who will be missed next year, especially his good-natured disposition, for in this respect he excels all.

L. M. TITUS

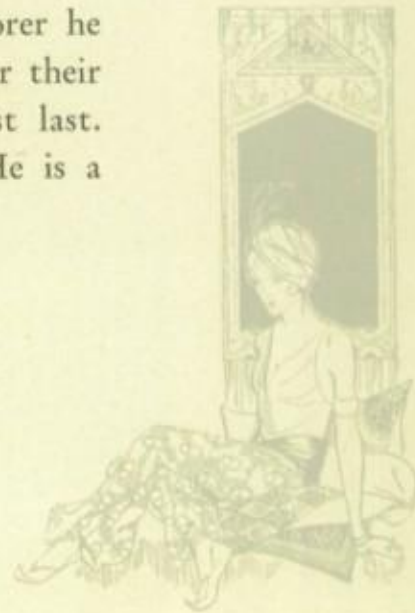

"Grub" is a player who has the ability to play most any place on the floor. He is a good player both on offense and defense, however, he played forward or center most of the time. Probably his most outstanding feats were when he entered both the Cadiz and Gaston games as a sub and by scoring needed field goals put his team back in the winning column. He has two more years to show his ability and M.H.S. expects much of him.

ERMAL McCORMACK

"Ozz" is a forward. He is a good shot at the basket and though small he fights hard to make up for this disadvantage. Whenever he is substituted in a game he puts out all he has to help win. He graduates this spring, otherwise he could well be used in shaping next year's team for he only needs more size to put the finishing touch on him.

MAURICE CONNER

"Doc" plays floor-guard or back-guard and although he is not a high scorer he is a good defensive player. He works hard for his team and will do anything for their benefit. He always puts the team's interest first and his own personal interest last. He deserves commendation for his manly methods and good sportsmanship. He is a senior.

SECOND TEAM

Physical Education

This year a new class was formed—physical education—it now being one of the subjects required for graduation. The class was open to Junior and Senior boys and they enjoyed a wide variety of duties and pleasures: hiking, horseshoes, baseball, basketball, rugby football, soccer, gymnastics, playground games and field events. During the bad weather the gymnasium was the meeting place for one double-period weekly meeting, but when suitable weather permitted the class met out of doors oftener. Physical education served to provide diversion from other school work, as well as to give needed physical exercise. Next year two classes will probably be formed—one for the girls, besides the one similar to this year's. You know it has been said, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

—FLOYD T. WALKER.

CHARACTERS

Bennie Davis, Zezzalee Davis (Same Character)	DONALD DUDLEY
J. H. Davis, Bennie's father	DELOSS COLE
Benjamin Davis, Esq., A rich uncle	CARL WILLIAMS
Harold Beem, a friend of Bennie's	GLEN JOHNSON
Ab Dinkler, a would-be detective	DEWITT MARKLE
Mrs. J. H. Davis, Bennie's mother	MILDRED HODSON
Molly Mallerton, Bennie's sweetheart	LUCY WILKINSON
Jeanette Blue, Uncle Ben's niece	ROBERT COOPER
Cleopatra Oleomargarine Johnson, colored maid	CARSON SMITH

SYNOPSIS

The Davis family are quite upset on account of a letter from Uncle Ben saying he is coming to give their daughter a portion of his fortune. Their daughter happened to be a son, but as they are in need of the money, they decide to dress him as a girl. He at first refused, but dressed as a girl to please his mother and is caught thus. He has to carry out the plan. Uncle Ben arrives and is fooled by Bennie. He is arrested for the murder of Bennie by Ab Dinkler. But Bennie appears as Bennie and saves his uncle. He receives his money.

Music

The M. H. S. Glee Clubs

Three high school glee clubs were organized at the beginning of the year; a girl's glee club with Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior girls represented. The Junior and Senior boys were organized and did advanced work in three and four-part singing. The Freshmen and Sophomore boys composed a new organization. A great deal of praise can be given these fine organizations for the splendid work rendered at various times this year.

Orchestra

The orchestra is practically a new organization, the majority of the members being new this year. The orchestra offers instruction and experience for those interested in ensemble playing. The training received enables the players to take their places in other musical organizations. The orchestra has played several times during the school year, but we are expecting bigger and better things from them in the future. "Long live the orchestra," is Mrs. McCarty's slogan.

- 18—Just another blue Monday.
- 20—Preparations are being made for Farmers Institute.
- 21—Farmers Institute! What a day! M.P.T.A. broadcast a wonderful entertainment in the evening.
- 22—Last B. B. game of the season. We won.
- 25—Maurene Rosenfeld won first place in Latin Contest. We drew Anderson for the tourney.
- 27—The boys go to Anderson to practice.
- 28—Mr. E. thinks Emporia has a postoffice. All cards were mailed this month.

MARCH

- 1—Tournament! Markleville lost to Anderson, but played a fine game.
- 4—A radio was installed in the Assembly. We heard the inaugural address. Juniors from Cadiz entertained a little also.
- 6—Preparations for Class tourney.
- 7—If you want any decorating done, just call on the Seniors. They sure do work. Ask Mr. Walker.
- 8—Too bad, Juniors, but we Seniors just had to win the tourney.
- 11—Started on Senior Class play—Beads on a String.
- 12—Not many Seniors at school. What peace!
- 13—We Seniors wonder if the teachers would be lost if we stayed away from school.
- 14—A perfect day. Everyone present.
- 15—B. B. boys go to Indianapolis to attend state tourney. Another quiet day.
- 19—A wonderful lecture was given in Economics, which will long be remembered by the Seniors. Bravo! Walker.
- 20—Junior Class of Cadiz give their play here.
- 25—Everyone has spring fever. A lovely day.
- 26—Work on Senior play coming fine.

FRESHMAN BLUES

*With eager hearts we entered school
Into the Freshman class,
But before we were here a week
We found out that, alas!
The others all make fun of us;
The teachers fault will find;
We never have a minute's peace,
They even think we're blind.*

*You cannot smile at anyone,
But what someone will always see
And say that you are flirting
But really, that can't be!*

*The Seniors flirt and have their dates,
And no one cares at all.
The Juniors spark in shady nooks,
And sometimes in the hall.*

*The Sophomores think they're pretty cute
But they forget, I know,
That last year they got all the blame
When in the Freshman row.*

*And when Freshman days are done,
And all our troubles will be o'er.
Oh! then we'll do as others do,
And never ask for more.*

-- FRESHMAN, '29.

Mrs. McCarty: "The nut behind the wheel."

* * * * *

Mr. Walker (in Civics 4): "Carson, how can you break children of bad habits?"

Carson: "Put a mouse-trap in the bread box."

* * * * *

Mr. Walker: "Name some products which we import from foreign countries."

Ethel: "Coffee, tropical fruits, etc."

Ward (just waking): "and dates."

Lowell B.: "It makes me shiver every-time I think of my grade."

Laurel B.: "Why?"

Lowell: "Because it's so near zero."

Miss Titus (in Eng. II): "Who was so rude as to laugh aloud?"

Eugene S.: "I laughed up my sleeve, but there was a hole in the elbow."

* * * * *

Carson S.: "Say, Mr. Ewing, how long could I live without brains?"

Mr. Ewing: "That remains to be seen."

* * * * *

Eugene S. was sent out of English II with this command from Miss Titus: "And don't come back for awhile, either."

15 minutes later Eugene stuck his head in the door and said, "May I come back now?"

Miss Titus to Lowell B.: "Leave this room at once. Outside, please."

Lowell left and was found almost frozen on the front steps at the end of the period.

* * * * *

Mr. Ewing: "How do most people tell you to breathe?"

Warren: "With your lungs, of course."

Jokes

Harley: "Did you enjoy Mr. Walker's lecture today?"

Oliver: "Which one?"

* * * * *

Mr. Ewing: "How many problems have you worked?"

Cecil C.: "When I work another, I'll have one."

* * * * *

Miss Pearson: "What do you expect to be when you grow up?"

Dewitt: "A big man."

* * * * *

Little drops of water
Freezing as they fall
Make Mr. Ewing's feet go upward
Boom! and that is all.

* * * * *

Dewitt: "Mildred and I are going to change seats."

Miss Titus: "You are not."

Dewitt: "I didn't think we would."

* * * * *

Miss Pearson: "That is free translation, Fred."

Fred Cooper: "No, it isn't; I paid a dollar for it."

* * * * *

Miss T. (in Biology class): "Order, please."

Meredith S.: "Ham and eggs."

* * * * *

Donny: "What is the future of 'I love'?"

Miss Pearson: "I divorce."

* * * * *

Mr. Ewing (asked in Geog. class): "Why do fish swim backward in the Missouri river?"

Eva W.: "To keep the mud out of their eyes."

Miss T.: "What's Eugene doing?"

Carson: "He's going to beard me in a little while."

* * * * *

Paulmer Keller: "Are we alone?"

Helen Markle: "No, you chump, there are two of us here."

* * * * *

Carson: "Do you wear suspenders?"

Dewitt: "No. Why should I support my pants. They never did anything for me."

* * * * *

Miss P.: "Paul, use 'defeat, detail and defense' in a question."

Paul C.: "De-feet of the cat went over de-fence before de-tail."

* * * * *

Miss T. puts drawing on board in Botany class.

Lucy: "What's that?"

Dewitt: "Three guesses."

John: "That's an antique."

* * * * *

Mr. E. (After several failures to have question answered): "Next!"

Donald D. (waking up): "Shave and a haircut."

* * * * *

Warren: "These are my new golf hose I have on."

Oliver: "I see there's eighteen holes in them."

* * * * *

Miss T.: "Did you ever see a pitcher plant?"

Donald: "No, but I've seen the Great Dipper."

* * * * *

Mr. Horse Radish: "Ladies and gents, Mr. Barleycorn will now sing a song entitled, 'I didn't raise my sun to be a Kernel'."

Jokes

Street Car Conductor: "Madame, this transfer has expired."

Irate Lady: "Well, you can't expect much else with the cars so poorly ventilated."

* * * * *

"Did you miss that train, sir?" asked the porter.

"No, I didn't like the looks of it, so I chased it out of the station," responded the irate left-behind.

* * * * *

Teacher: "What is Boston noted for?"

Johnny: "Boots and shoes."

Teacher: "Correct. And Chicago?"

Johnny: "Shoots and booze."

* * * * *

"That's a man after my own heart," said the cow as the butcher came into the yard.

* * * * *

"The up-to-date girl does not cry," says a critic. No. Look at the price of face powder.

* * * * *

The Girl: "I found that book you loaned me frightfully dull, professor. I thought you said there was a naughty problem in it."

Professor: "My dear girl, I said a knotty problem."

* * * * *

There was a young lady of Crewe
Who wanted to catch the 2-2,
Said a porter, "Don't hurry,
Or worry or flurry
It's a minute or 2-2-2-2."

* * * * *

She: "When a man who bores me terribly asks me where I live I always tell him that I live in the suburbs."

He: "And where do you live?"

She: "In the suburbs."

WHY SHE MARRIED HIM.

He was poor

He was homely

He couldn't dance.

He wouldn't drink.

He was a dumb-bell

But her best friend wanted him.

Flaming Youth: "You look like a sensible girl. Let's get married."

Modern Maid: "Nothing doing. I'm as sensible as I look."

* * * * *

Farmer Corntassel had just retired and moved to town. In the morning, after spending the first night in the new home his wife said, "Well, Paw, hain't it about time you was getting up to build the fire?"

"No siree," replied the old gent. "I'll call the fire department. We might as well get used to these city conveniences right now."

* * * * *

Teacher: "Abie, can you use the word disease in a sentence?"

Abie: "Papa wanted to know who vass talking on de phone, and I said 'Disease Abie, Papa'."

* * * * *

Minister: "I pronounce you man and wife—the ring please."

Magician (reaching in his pocket and pulling out a ribbit.) "Gosh, the wrong act!"

* * * * *

"Why does a stork stand on one leg?"

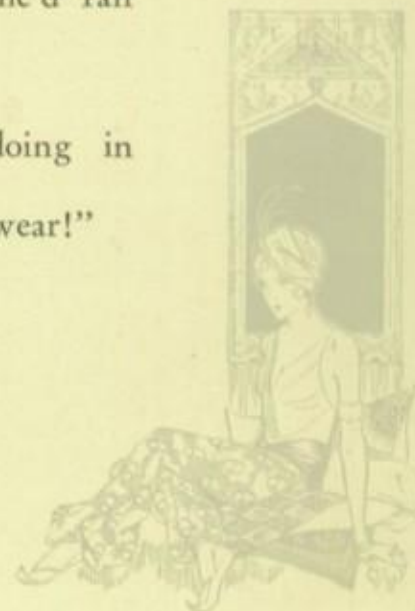

"I don't know."

"If he'd lift the other one, he'd fall down."

* * * * *

Mother: "What's that hole doing in your pants?"

Johnny: "Showing my underwear!"
